

I think there has been much headway in television captioning, but unfortunately, advertisers do NOT caption their commercials. News programs are too often captioned from the teleprompter instead of from what is being said. "On the scene" reports are rarely captioned. Plus news early in the day, say 6AM are usually not captioned. There is progress in captioning but there is still more to be done. Thank you.
Richard Neely